Dear Mr. Schwab,

Thank you for contacting me about healthcare policy. I appreciate you taking the time to write and share your perspective. It is an honor to serve you in the United States House of Representatives. I hope you will continue to write with your thoughts and ideas for moving our country forward.

Rural Coloradans face significant obstacles in accessing healthcare. Federal bureaucracy, lack of telehealth availability, and limited marketplace competition increase prices for rural Americans. By cutting red tape, we can drastically expand healthcare services and cut costs in rural areas.

I cosponsored the Rural Health Clinic Location Modernization Act to expand the definition of a rural health clinic under Medicare, increasing access to primary and preventive care services in rural communities. I also cosponsored the bipartisan Rural Behavioral Health Improvement Act, expanding the treatment capabilities of rural health clinics to include mental health services. As part of the Working Families Tax Cut passed in July, I voted to secure $50 billion in funding for rural hospitals and health care providers. Investing in rural America improves quality of life and reduces long-term medical costs through preventative and immediate care.

I stand with President Trump in Making America Healthy Again, including holding drug companies accountable. I cosponsored the End the Vaccine Carveout Act to remove civil liability protections for vaccine manufacturers, providing potential victims of Big Pharma a pathway to restitution. Accountability makes the American people safer, ensures pharmaceutical companies inform the public of the risks associated with their products, and incentivizes honest and accurate medical science.

President Trump has drawn attention to the chronic health epidemic plaguing Americans, particularly our youth. I joined my Republican and Democrat colleagues in cosponsoring the Do or Dye Act to deem certain food colorings with adverse health effects, including cancer and other chronic illnesses, as unsafe for human consumption. Keeping Americans healthy is not a partisan issue, and I will always fight for public safety.

It is an honor to serve Colorado as part of its Congressional Delegation. I took an oath to support and defend the Constitution of the United States and will remain forever faithful to it. Rest assured, I will work to represent you with integrity. I always fight for freedom and prosperity to deliver results for Coloradans of the Fourth District.
