

Suggested Reading List for May 2024 ‘Save the Billionaires (or not)’ Walk in Omaha NE

The following suggested reading material was put together in an effort to add to the argument that kidney dialysis clinics are infrastructure, like the interstate highway system started by President Eisenhower in the 1950s.

Quick 1 minute start, available at DialysisEthics2.org (see HQ-Save-the-Billionaires-or-not-Walk-updates+info menu link on left side of the front webpage)

A starting article: Warren Buffett: America's Folksiest Predator by Matt Stoller August 9th, 2020
<https://mattstoller.substack.com/p/warren-buffett-americas-folksiest>

A ‘Billionaire Info Packet’ available at DialysisEthics2.org (see HQ-Save-the-Billionaires-or-not-Walk-updates+info menu link on left side of the front webpage)

Books:

- 'Goliath' by Matt Stoller (may we raise the spirit of Texas Congressman Wright Patman)
- 'Division of Light and Power' by Dennis Kucinich (his fight as mayor for Muni Light was epic and read like a thriller) (utilities and dialysis clinics both carve out a geographical area)
- 'Monopolized' by David Dayen (started reading it, sounds like dialysis isn't the only area seeing the effects of concentrated corporate power!)
- ‘Car Guys vs. Bean Counters’ by Bob Lutz, former President of Chrysler Corp.. Featured in Blog #9 at DialysisEthics2.org

***Look for ‘How to Make a Killing: Blood, Death and Dollars in American Medicine’ by Tom Mueller coming out August 1st, 2023!